The Daily Courant.

Wednesday, December 9. 1713.

London, December 9.
Yesterday arrived two Mails from Holland and Flanders.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Dec. 15.
Hambourg, December 8.

WE have received confirmed Advice of a Victory obtained by the Muscovites in Finland; particularly we have the Copy of a Letter, written by the Swedish General Arnfeld the Day after the Action, viz.

Extract of a Letter from General Arnfeld, concerning the Action which passed in Finland, dated from Tammerforth the 8th of October 1713.

I send to acquaint you, that Yesterday we suffered a very fierce Attack from our Enemies, who at last obliged us to retire. Our Intrenchments near Palkana were very strong, and we reckoned our selves able to defend them a long time against considerable Forces: But the Enemy, contrary to our Expectation, found Means to put on shore 7000 Men a quarter of a League behind us. I had made several Detachments, and sent out Parties for Intelligence, which gave me Notice that many Barks of the Enemy appeared.
Whereupon I made all the necessary Dispositions for hindering a Descent: I even chose the very Place where the Enemy had proposed to land, and posted some Cavalry there: And besides, I drew off two thirds of the Infantry which were in the Lines, to help to oppose the Descent. But the Wind, which had been against the Enemy all Night, turned for them at Break of Day: Besides, 'twas a very thick Fog, which hindered our seeing them till they were just upon us.

Our Horse were presently forced to give Ground, because the Foot which I had drawn from our Lines, could not come time enough to support them; the Enemy, before their Approach, having already landed the greatest part of their Troops. We advanced however and charged them with much Courage, and drove them by our great Fire into the Water; but they being supported by those who landed on all Sides, we were obliged to give Way in our turn. We had made a Disposition for the Cavalry to take the Enemy in Flank, and there was great Likelihood of their succeeding; but tho' the Infantry did all that could be expected from the best of Troops, we could not make the Horse do as well, every Platoon of them giving way one after another.

Things standing thus, it was not difficult for the Enemy to attack our Lines: However they lost a great many Men in doing it, till (certain Circumstances considered) I gave Order to the Troops to abandon them. The Loss we suffered in all these Attacks is not small. We were obliged to chuse the most convenient Roads to favour our Retreat; and the Foot having been forced to take several Ways, I cannot yet tell how many of my Men are missing. Mean while I have posted my self again at this Passage, to make all possible Resistance.

The great Number of Roads and Passages had obliged me to disperse my Troops so, that I had with me but 700 Horse and 1100 Foot to oppose the Descent. The Enemy are advanced to Day near to this Place, and I am expecting what they will undertake, &c.

We have since received Letters of a fresher Date, advising, that the rest of the Swedish Army have been obliged to yield themselves Prisoners to the Muscovites; who are now Masters of all Finland, and who were preparing, when the hard Frost comes, to make Incursions quite to Stockholm.

From the Hague Courant, dated Dec. 15.

Stockholm, Nov. 15. The Senate here having assembled divers times, and taken into Consideration the dangerous State of the Affairs of this Kingdom, the Absence of the King, and the Uncertainty what time his Majesty will return to this Country, came at last to an unanimous Resolution, to invite the Princess Ulrica Eleanor, as next Heir to the Crown (if the King should happen to die without Issue), to assist the Senate with her prudent Advice in this difficult Conjuncture, and to preside in their Consultations. For this End, a solemn Deputation was sent a few Days ago to her Highness, who accepted their Invitation, and sat the first Time the 10th Instant in the Assembly. Her Highness was placed by her self at a Table near the Throne, has since been several times at Council, and received the Compliments of the foreign Ministers residing here. The Senate have resolved to call a general Diet of the States of the Kingdom, and deliberate with them by what Means to cover the Country from the further Attempts of the Enemy. In the mean while we learn, that divers Orders are already issued, and particularly one to the Admiral who is cruising on the Coast of Finland, to return with his Squadron, not to Carel-scoon, but hither, and to Winter in this Port, that he may go back the earlier in the Spring to the Coast of Finland. The Remains of our small Army are retired out of that Province into Lapland; and though we are not without Apprehension of the Muscovites making a further Irruption, yet People are more heartened since the Princess was called to the Council, hoping that henceforward more uniform and steady Resolutions will be taken for the Preservation of the Kingdom. We are informed, that the Principal Matters which are to be laid before the States here, may be ranged under the three following Heads; viz. I. The deliberating about the Interregnum, or Administration of the Kingdom during the King's Absence.
II. The contriving by all Methods imaginable, to effect a Peace between this Kingdom and the other Northern Powers. And, III. The sending a solemn Deputation to his Royal Majesty in Turkey, to represent to him the State of Affairs in this Kingdom.
